Clinical Trials Are Facing Real Challenges:

It takes 7-13 years to develop a new drug

95% of physicians don't participate in clinical trials

85% of trials miss their targeted timelines

Trials have less than 15% minority representation on average

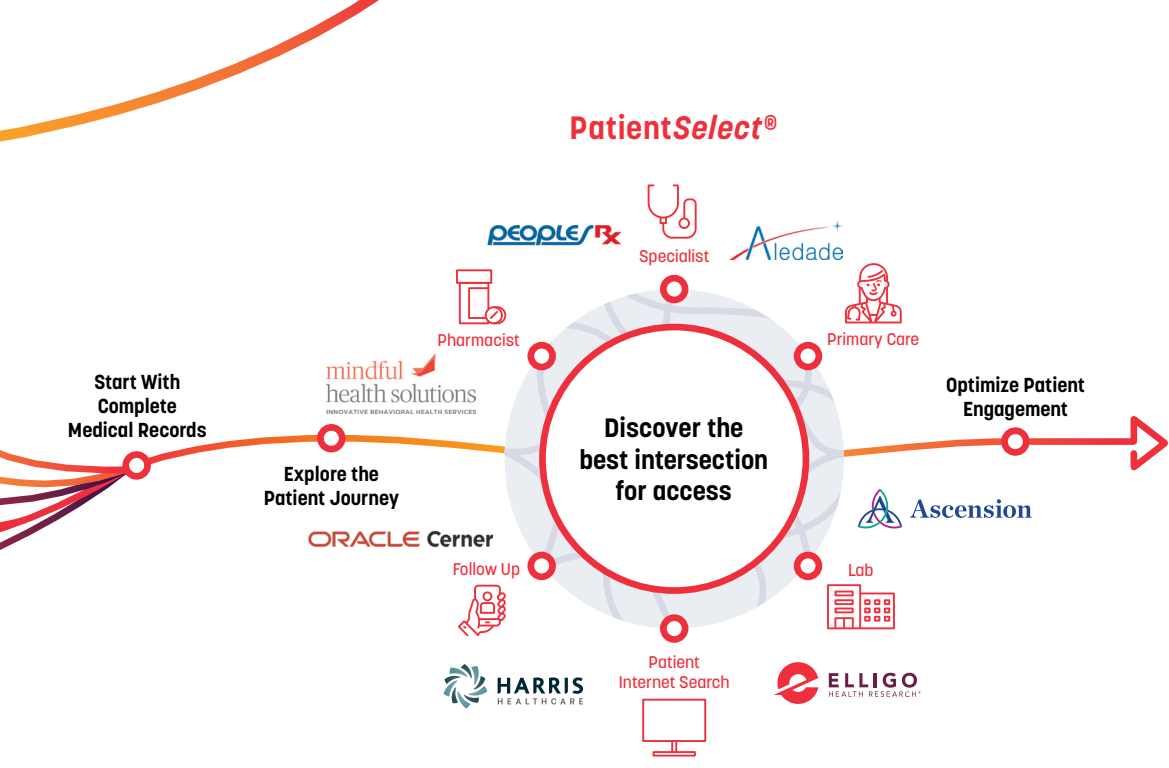

Some studies have as high as a 30% patient dropout rate

How can we improve research to better serve patients?

Elligo Is the Answer

Elligo's adaptive engagement model — consisting of PatientSelect®, SiteSelect, Study-Level Services, Research Partner Services, and our proprietary technology portfolio — provides direct access to untapped patients, the best sites, and comprehensive research solutions.

As the ultimate healthcare-enabling research organization, we optimize the intersection of healthcare and research, maintain the integrity of the trusted patient-physician relationship, and leverage electronic health records to accelerate the development of new pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device and diagnostic products while bringing more patients clinical research as a care option.

Increase Patient Centricity and Access to Research as Care

Direct access to millions of untapped, diverse patients through HIPAA-compliant identified healthcare data, healthcare-integrated sites, proprietary technology, and AI-powered analytics.
